

Since our founding over two decades ago, Conexx is recognized as one of North America's most effective organizations connecting Israeli companies with businesses and markets in the US. Conexx would be pleased to work with you and help bring your company to the Southeast and beyond.

Below is a brief explanation of the steps required to start working with Conexx. If you have any questions, please contact Guy Tessler at (678) 274-9699 or gtessler@conexx.org.

Intake

- You will be asked to fill out an intake form and submit materials, such as presentations, summaries or videos as background information on your company

Understand Your Needs

- After all information has been received, Conexx staff will discuss your business, its current stage of development and current US activities. We will then explore how we can best assist your company.

Becoming a Member of Conexx

- Conexx is a non-profit, non-governmental organization that relies on the support of our members. Should you choose to continue working with Conexx, we will ask you to become members.

Pay it Backwards Program

- We will then ask you to commit to our "Pay it Backward" program. Should you win business, or otherwise benefit financially through your work with Conexx, you will, in return, support Conexx at a fair market value.

Members' Review & Approval

- At that point, your company file will be presented to the appropriate members and/or steering committee for review, feedback and a suggested plan of action.

Plan of Action

- Committees and connectors will explore opportunities for your company and help you execute the plan of action. A Conexx consulting team may also be formed to help you develop and execute your strategy and can include marketing/pr opportunities, events, roadshows and other programs.

Conexx Successes:

Here's what a few of our Israeli members have to say about us:

“ I met the president of Conexx during a visit to the governor of Georgia's delegation in Israel a few months ago. The meeting resulted in a successful conference call that included representatives of Conexx and representatives of Metro Atlanta Chamber. Thanks to this call and the strong action by the representatives of Conexx, a successful visit was organized. I held many meetings with a number of leading organizations and companies in the United States in the field of social work as well as meetings with the Georgia State Health Commissioner and with leading, large hospital chains in Georgia, Tennessee and Ohio.

Conexx's ability to lead, coordinate and initiate visits in the US combined with their relationship with government, business leaders and support organizations is very impressive and beneficial to companies like mine.

Today, thanks to my successful relationship with Conexx, I am in contact with the leading US company in the field in which we operate, we are developing strategic partnerships, and we have direct contacts with senior government officials and leading US hospitals.

“ As Gamatronic's North American Sales Manager, I am constantly in the lookout for new clients and business opportunities. When I stumbled upon the Conexx website, little did I know what a huge resource Conexx would be for my business.

The Conexx team has been extremely helpful in assisting me with my specific needs and putting me in touch with the right people at the right time. They are knowledgeable and professional and have a sense of expertise in all realms of technologies.

Conexx gave me the feeling that we were working as a team. I look forward to continue to work with Conexx in the future.

Ilanit Gedalyoviche, Gamatronic

“ Conexx offered us a warm and supportive networking environment with many active and dedicated members that were happy to help with professional advice and introductions. Conexx management was instrumental in making powerful and targeted introductions that helped open the doors to many of the companies we pursued. They helped us understand the American market and navigate it successfully.

Out of many technology & business networking associations, Conexx was the only one that truly took the time to provide an individual relationship of mentoring, introductions and great follow-up. We are very grateful to all their help and look forward to continuing our successful relationship with Conexx.
